Family: A Biblical Framework

1. How is culture around us thinking about the subject of family?
2. How do we see God’s people approach the idea of family in scripture?
3. Can we let scripture give us a greater understanding of what family is?

Small Group Questions

1. What in your life has had the greatest impact on the way you think about family?
2. What cultural concepts about family seem to draw your attention the most?
3. In what ways can a focus on how culture approaches family actually distract from a healthy evaluation of our own families?
4. Did this message and the scriptures we looked at challenge some of the ways you have approached the subject of family? How?
5. Our earthly families can become an idol in the sense that they can become a higher priority in our daily pursuits than our own faithfulness to our relationship with God. In what ways do you personally experience a temptation towards this type of interaction?
6. How could you bring those things into greater alignment with a life of biblically faithful discipleship?
7. How should a biblical understanding of other Christians as our siblings in Christ change our interactions as his church?
